Summary: What happens when Chizuru finds an abandon/Lost baby outside the Shinsengumi HQ? Will they keep it until the mother comes and claim the baby? Or is it to be abandoned?How will the guys react to it? This intend to be a Chizu/Hiji Fic, Might just be a multi-chapter for each guy taking care of the baby.

1. Tickle

AN : A one-shot(or Not) Fanfic of the shinsengumi taking care of a lost baby, It's based off an image I found on the internet The link to it is on my profile page. Might be a multi-chapter for each guy taking care of the baby. I don't have a lot of knowledge writing about babies so, please don't hurt me too much!

>Chizuru slightly opened the shoji door and took a peak through. She silently gasped that the scene before her. Inside the room, it showed Hijikata wagging his right index finger at the baby as he cradled the baby with his other arm. The baby reached up and tried to take hold of the index finger but, it was out of his reach.

"Dah! Bah," It cried out in frustration.

Hijikata raised his left eyebrow at the baby before trailing his finger to the baby's foot and tickled it. The baby giggled at the man and swung his foot away from the finger. Hijikata chuckled at the amused baby and continued to tickle each foot. His expression soften as the baby gives off giggles and smiles at the man, making him melt at the sight.

At the moment, Souji's Partner in crime swiftly snuck up on the peeking girl and rubbed his head between her ankles. Chizuru let out a squeak in surprise before glaring down at the black cat, that is currently licking his paws innocently. Hijikata glared at the door and gave a warning, "Behind that door, reveal yourself or face the consequences."

Fearfully, Chizuru slowly opened the door before bowing her head low in apology. "I apologize for my rudeness Hijikata-san. I will not peak through again." The cat besides her, let out a meow before rubbing himself against her ankles again. "Toshizo." She scold the cat, making it stare up at her innocently before hissing at the purple-eyed felt his left eyes twitch at the name Souji gave the cat before giving out a big sigh.

"Its fine, as long as you're not one of them." Toshizo let out another hiss before tilting it's head in curiosity at small creature in the man's arms. The bundle in his arms turned it's head towards the girl and let out a happy squeal, it's hands reaching out for her.

2. Feather

"Heh."

That was the very first thing Souji said as he laid eyes on the baby.

>He made no advanced towards it either since he would be disturbing the sleeping babe.
Nobody wants to wake a sleeping baby after all, Chizuru went through the process of putting it back to sleep.

He slowly crept closer to the woman currently holding the sleeping babe.

Her posture leaning against on the room door and securing her arms around the bundle.

>Chizuru's eyes remained shut from exhaustion of her daily chores and taking care of the little one.

"Meow." Goes the black ball of fur resting at the foot of the slumbering woman.

Souji places his index finger to his lips, making out a quiet sound.

"Shhh, Toshizo don't move or I'll sick you on Hijikata-san." That made the cat lay back down and stretched his body.

He turned his attention back to the sleeping couple and smiled at them. _"I wonder what the future holds for you kid."_ Scratching the back of his head at the thought of the little bundle remembering them after growing up. _"Although, I never knew Chizuru looked cute while she slept." _

Souji brushed her bands away from her face, then gave a peck to her forehead before leaving the room and slowly closed the door.

Ten minutes after Souji's departure, Chizuru stirred in her slumber then slowly opened her eyes to meet an empty room.

>She slowly sat up and adjusted her hold on the bundle before laying it on her futon. "I hope you don't wake up now, I had less sleep because of you."

Running a hand through her bangs she look around the room as if she felt someone in the room.

>She shrugged at that thought and open the door to the hallway of the house, only to be met with a basket on the floor. It had three wrapped Onigiri, a written note and, one large bird feather.
Chizuru read the note first before lifting up the feather.

_Chizuru,_

>I couldn't really wake your sleeping face, it's cute even if you do drool.

>Makes me wonder if that kid was actually yours and not abandoned.

>Anyway, Hijikata-san told me to bring this basket to you in case you get hungry.

>Remember, It's Heisuke's turn to look after him when it turns evening.

>Almost forgot, Toshizo might be bored so give him that feather.

>You do remmeber the bird we helped with it's wing right?

_Souji Okita_

Toshizo gave Chizuru a 'Meow' when she presented it to him and began playing with it.

>Chizuru, re-read the note once again and felt her face flush when she read the very first line.
"Okita-san saw my sleeping face, I must look horrible." She shook her head at that though and wiped her mouth with her sleeve.

>"But then he called me cute! Is he teasing me again?"

Slapping both her cheeks at the realization of being teased once again, then looked at the feather that is now a toy and smiled.

>He might be genuine about it after all..

>AN : I'm ALIVE MUHAHAHA AFTER A YEAR OR TWO! Anyway, prepare for an update of Long Enough and a new story.

>It's a Fire Emblem : Awakening story starring Male Morgan. Remember, Read and Review people!

3. Peek a boo

Chizuru giggled at the sight of a disheveled Heisuke when he hands the baby over to her. His haori had mud on them with the smell of puke mixing in. Long hair that once was in a ponytail now rested on his shoulders with some saliva mixing in on his left shoulder.

He took three huge steps back away from them. "That kid has brought nothing but trouble whenever I am assigned to him."

That made Chizuru tilt her head at him curiously. "And why have you said that? He's perfectly harmless." She asked, making silly faces at the baby. The babe giggled at her before his attention turned to his hands.

"Let's see, He brought unnecessary attention from very old ladies when I took him into town. After a moment of escaping them, He puked on me after I fed him which smells pretty bad." He looked at his right shoulder in disgust. "I cleaned it up, then he decided to pull strains from my ponytail and attempted to chew on them."

"I..see.." She felt pity for him as he kept on relaying what happened.

"Then I don't know how it got mud on his hands!" He paused and immediately began stripping off his tops. Chizuru felt a blush forming and let out a stutter. "H-Heisuke!"

"It's not mud Chizuru-Chan! It's something worse!" Heisuke panicked, running away from the couple.

She didn't see Heisuke the rest of the day until dinner time arrived. From what Harada told her that Heisuke was at the lake nearby. He and Shinpachi was on patrol when they spotted him cleaning his tops. In between every scrub he would mutter about 'the smell won't come off' or 'It wasn't mud..'

Now Heisuke made sure he was with someone when watching over the baby. He didn't want to be the only one that suffered. Particularly, Sanosuke and Shinpachi since they don't really get to be close to the infant without scaring him or handling him a bit too hard in Shinpachi's case.

The baby was left in the care of Hijikata as of that evening. The vice commander was in the middle of doing paperwork pausing so often to check on the energetic babe on his futon. He smiled a bit when he heard the baby blabber on, discovering his feet for the first time.

The next time he checked on the baby, it was sound asleep with the cat. Toshizo the cat must of snuck in and entertained the baby a bit before laying besides him.

"I suppose it's time for bed.." He thought, gathering up his papers before settling the baby on it's own makeshift futon. It wouldn't be good to sleep with a baby risking it to be crushed, no Hijikata wasn't THAT much of a demon.

Toshizo growled at him and curled up onto a ball near the baby, acting as the sleeping infant's guard.

Hijikata blew out the candle and went to bed. The sounds of baby giggles woke him up and slowly turned to the source. He saw Chizuru playing with him, but her eyes show that she hasn't had much sleep. Nonetheless, she kept him entertained.

"Uh oh, where the dango go?" She covered her face with her hands.

"There he is!" She opened hands showing a silly expression on her face.

The infant giggled again very amused at the female demon's game of peek a boo.

Hijikata watched them, amused as she kept on with the game until he heard foot steps from outside his room. He closed his eyes pretending to be asleep when she opened the door.

"Yukimura, I did not know you have him today." That voice belonged to Saito. It made sense since it was his time to look after the infant.

"Not really, He woke me up pretty early so I thought to play with him for a bit.." Chizuru gave off a yawn.

"Is that so?"

She gave a slight nod and handed the energetic baby that squealed in delight when he saw Saito's face.

"Dab ga wo!"

"Yes, Good Morning to you. Let's be off now." Saito responded and left. Soon after Chizuru retreated back to her room. Not before she gave Hijikata a kiss on the forehead.

"Thank you for watching him for the night.." She whispered to him, not noticing the slight pause in breath when she kissed him.

When she left, he opened his eyes and gave out a sigh. Maybe he should keep watch over the infant overnight if this was the reward each time he does.

He doesn't mind, but he does mind that the kiss brought butterflies in his stomach.
